Little bands of these "chivalrous Southrons" are continually approximate the citizens constituents. There are fine churches—the Methodist, Presbyterian, Cumberland Presbyterian, Episcopal, and Baptist. The Episcopal is a spigndid Gothic structure, and will probably seat six hundred persons. The Presbyterian is also a very elegant building, with stained glass wifdows, splendid organ, beautiful chandeliers, and everything necessary to the interior adornment of a first class church. The present pastor, F. A. Ross, is the "Beecher" of the South, and I am informed that secession was eloquently promulgated from his pulpit. But now his audience is principally of Federal soldiers, and a better behaved and attentive set of men never honored him with their presence. The speaker, as he warms up with his theme, and with stately mien steps from one side to the other of the rostrum, reminded me of the caged lion, that, were it not for the iron bars, would seek "whom he might devour," But, thanks be to God, the iron is in the hands of

The rest of the night was passed in unconscious slumber, dreaming not of the contemplated advance of a rebel force. On the next day, Feb. 3d, our regiment moved back one half mile nearer the city, and camped in the opposite valley, still occupying the front and holding the gap in the mountains, four ertain."

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1864. The radical national committee, as appears from the despatches, has called the radical national convention at Baltimore on the seventh of June next, addressing the call to "all qualified voters who desire the unconditional maintenance of the Union, the supremacy of the Constitution, and the complete suppression of the rebellion by a vigorous prosecution of the war." The broad and evasive terms of this call imply a conviction on the part of the committee that radicalism has still a formidable adversary in conservatism. We look upon the indication as a significant one. "Hypocrisy," says Rochefoucauld, "is a sort of homage that vice pays to virtue." The hypocrisy of this committee is a sort of homage that radicalism pays to conservatism, acknowledging thereby the supremacy of conservatism in the hearts of the people. The artifice shows that radicalism, intrenched in power as it is, mistrusts itself, and fears naked conservatism. And it well may. Conservatism is naked but not de-

A very interesting document, in the form of a circular from the Chairman of the National Executive Committee of the Chase men, has just found its way to the public eye. The chairman in question is Mr. S. C. Pomeroy, one of the Senators of Kansas. The document is not unworthy of notice.

It is dated "Washington, D. C., February 1864," and sets out as follows:

The movements recently made throughout the country, to secure the renomination of President Lincoln, render necessary some counteraction on the part of those unconditional friends of the Union, who differ from the policy of his administration. So long as no efforts were made to forestall the political action of the people, it was both wise and patriotic for all true friends of the government to devote their influence to the probability.

suppression of the rebellion. But when it becomes evident that party machinery and official influence are being used to secure the perpetration of the present Administration, those who conscientiously believe that the interests of the country and of freedom demand a change in favor of vigor and purity and nationality, have no choice but to appeal at once to the people, before it shall be too late to secure a fair discussion of principles. We ask the public to mark the admissions

Having thus vindicated the propriety, not to say necessity, of appealing to the people against the force of "party machinery and official influence," the circular declares that those in behalf of whom it is drawn up "have thoughtfully surveyed the political field," and have arrived at several conclusions, which are forthwith stated in detail. These conclusions are five in number. The first three are as follows: 1. That, even were the re-election of Mr. Lincoln desirable, it is practically impossible against the union of influences which will oppose him.

2. That, should he be re-elected, his manifest tendency toward compromises and temporary expedients of policy will become stronger during a second term than it has in the first, and the cause of human liberty and the dignity and honor of the nation suffer proportionately; while the war may continue to languish during his whole administration, will the public debt thell become a burden too. till the public debt shall become a burden too great to be borne. 3. That the patronage of the Government, through the necessives of the war, has been so rapidly increased, and to such an enough the extent, and so loosely placed, as "2 render the application of the "one-term principle" absolutely essential to the certain safety of our publican institutions. The amount of these different conclusions is, that, if Mr. Lincoln ought to be re-elected, he could not be, and, if he could be re-elected, he ought not to be. This is very good. We subscribe to it. But here we are constrained to stop. The two remaining conclusions are thus stated: 4. That we find united in Hon. Salmon P. Chase more of the qualities needed in a President during the next four years than any other available candidate; his record, clear and unimpeachable, showing him to be a statesman of rare ability, and an administrator of the very highest order, while his private character furnishes the surest obtainable guarantee of economy and purity in the management of public affairs. agement of public affairs.

5. That the discussion of the Presidential question, already commenced by the friends of Mr. Lincoln, has developed a popularity and strength in Mr. Chase, unexpected even to his warmest admirers; and while we are aware that this strength is at present unorganized, and in no condition to manifest its real magnitude, we are satisfied that it only needs systematic and faithful effort, to develop it to an extent sufficient to overcome all opposing ob-Such is the purpose, and the ground of the purpose. Next come the means, which form the practical section of the document. "For these reasons," the circular proceeds, "the friends of Mr. Chase have determined on measures which shall present his claims fairly and at once to the country. A central organization has been effected, which already has its connections in all the States, and the object | UNION BANK NOTES to fill orders. of which is to enable his friends everywhere most effectually to promote his elevation to the Presidency." After a flourish concerning the general objects to be sought, the circular winds up with this business-like paragraph: "If these objects meet your approval, you can render efficient aid by exerting yourself at once to organize your section of the country, and by corresponding with the Chairman of the National Executive Committee, for the purpose either of receiving or imparting information." The document is said to be issued with the sanction and under the auspices of three-fourths of the Republican United States Senators. How this may be we know not, but unquestionably the paper is backed up by a very powerful influence in the ranks of the dominant party. Mr. Lincoln's continuance in power for another term involves the like continuance of the great body of the present office-holders, which, however agreeable to the incumbents themselves, is a prospect by no means inspiring to the horde of hungry office-hunters, who in number far exceed the more fortunate crew. A change of men is wanted not for a change of measures but for a change of treasury-suckers. This is the true reason of the movement against Mr. Lincoln in his own party. All other reasons assigned are false ones. The reasons touching "human liberty" assigned in this circular are not only false but absurd. If Wendell Phillips were elected President in November he could do no better for abolitionism than to carry out Mr. Lincoln's policy. There is no room beyond for an extremer policy. It is itself the ultima Thule of radicalism. The idea of cuttering under Mr. Lincoln on the radical side is silly and ludicrous.

But the cause we have mentioned is quite enough to sustain a vigorous contest within the Republican ranks, and such

The Tribune thinks that the action of Congress yesterday on the confiscation act indicates a growing sentiment in favor of extreme measures against the rebellion, and argues from past experience that taxation is necessary.—N. Y. Com. Advertiser.

The Tribune's conclusion is sound; for "past experience" shows, that, beyond the laws of civilized warfare, all "extreme measures" serve to prolong war, and that, other things being equal, "taxation is necessary" in proportion to the prolongation of war. This, to be sure, is our argument; but it establishes the Tribune's conclusion.

The Court to investigate the conduct of Major-Generals McCook, Orittenden, and Negley, has adjourned sine die, and from what we can learn of the evidence, not a learn of the tracked to after of shadow of blame can be attached to either of the Generals. Gens. Hunter, Wadsworth, and Cadwallader left this city yesterday for The evidence elicited will be promptly sent on to Washington by the Judge Advocate. This trial has cost the Government no doubt other commanders from their respective com-mands, and all because of the reports put in circulation by some newspaper scribbler.

When is this thing to cease? is the inquiry made by every Union man. That a good officer is to be laid aside and brought to trial because he does not exactly suit the whim or caprice of malicious men is not only injustice to some of our best Generals but detrimental DICKENS'S "GREAT EXPECTATIONS" OUT-The Convention met yesterday at Beck's Hall, at look A. M., in pursuance to adjournment-Wm. ir g out its principles, and that the designation canch State represented in this Convention appoint the members of said Convention.

7. That we declare ourselves favorable to such an amendment of the Constitution of the United States as shall make the President's election for one term Previous to the adoption of the 6th resolution, Mr. Moss, of Missouri, offered a substitute, calling a National Convention to meet in the city of St. Louis on the i6th day of May next.

After a spirited discussion and great disorder in the cause, the substitute was lost by a vote of 64 to 52.

Aumerous motions were now made to adjourn sine flie, accurpanied with calls from all parts of the nouse of "question, question." Juring the excitement, Mr. Krekel, of Missouri. offered a "one term" solicy resolution as No. 7, which, on his accepting an unerdment, roads as above: resolutions. tz, being loudly called for, took the stand used himself as follows: d expressed nimself as follows:

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

MORNING DESPATORES. XXXVIII CONGRESS-FIRST SESSION. WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.

Lowe, who had returned to Simon's Bay after a three months' cruise, during which, out of The Senate proceeded to the consideration 100 vessels, she had met with only one Fed the bill to equalize the pay of soldiers in eral ship. In the meantime she had been or dered away from a Brazilian port, in conse an amendment of Mr. Davis, which pro posed to disarm the negro troops, was voted down by 30 to 7. short allowance.

After the seizure of the vessel, Lieutenant The Senate agreed to the report of the Committee of Conference on the revenue bill. The consideration of the bill to equalize Lowe lodged a formal protest, and proceeded to Cape Town to consult with legal advisers. Mr. Graham, United States Consul, had also the pay of colored troops was then postponed. The Senate, at 1:50, went into executive lodged a claim against the vessel, in behalf of the former owners.

The Cape Town Advertiser says that in the seizure of the Tuscaloosa Admiral Walker acted in the matter according to instructions sent out to the colony by the home Govern-ment, and the prize will be detained by him, on behalf of Government, until she is claimed by her legal owners.

The grounds of the seizure are, that the Tuscalcosa is a vessel belonging to the Federal States of America, and, not having been udicated before a prize-court, is still a re-mable prize, which has been brought into an English port in violation of the neutrality laws, and must accordingly be detained. The Tuscaloosa was captured by the rebels and turned into a pirate. The Federal vessel referred to as having been captured by the Tuscaloosa was the ship Living Age, before reported.

The following is the latest received of the loss of the Bohemian:

Boston, February 23.

The Tuscaloosa put into Semora Bay on

Capt. Borland supposed himself four miles forther off than was his real position. He had been looking for a pilot and throwing up rockets and blue lights for half an hour, and was going at the rate of a mile and a half an hour when the vessel struck half an hour be-fore he got soundings, and sunk in forty fathoms water with soft bottom.

The list of passengers is being checked as fast as the survivors come in to ascertain who are lost, as the survivors are scattered in all directions. The list is not yet completed.

Later.—Seventeen passengers are reported lost. None from the West. So far there are twenty-six more unaccounted for. Thirty-three mail bags have been recovered. Among whiskey bill. It is a part, and the precursor of to-day, driving the enemy out.

The enemy suppose that Grant has been concentrating at Knoxville to drive Long-street out, thus weakening Chattancoga, and Gen. Sherman's movement from Vicksburg towards Jackson and Meridian, and its mission, we presume, is to cut the railroads in Alabama and Mississippi, so as to isolate Polk's army at Meridian. The total force is about 10,000 men. It will probably emerge from rebeldom at Madisonville, La, Pensacola, or near Chattanooga. HIGHES.—HIDES.—H to the Doylestown Democrat: We have learned considerable about Sumpter of late. Since our last bombardment they first went to California, and wrought in the lower tier of casemates, they have mounted four heavy guns, which command the channel. The garrison numbers three or four hundred men, who are relieved by others at stated intervals. A number of torpedoes have been sunk to anchors in the channel; and among gust. It is nothing uncommon to have four other things are two old boilers filled with powder, one of which contains three thousand pounds. They are sunk in deep water, and it is arranged to explode them from the shore by means of a wire. They have constructed small steamers, something like the one that made a former attempt to come out and blow up the iron-clads. They are building four new ironclads, one of which is two hundred feet long, and plated with four inch iron. The other three are smaller, and about the size of the two they already have afloat.

A few days ago one of our shells exploded npon the deck of this large new iron-clad, but did no damage. There are no places of business open in the lower part of the city, except two grogshops. The big gun the rebels imported from our neutral English friends is mounted in the city, and points down the harmon. The lower is thirteen in the harmon the city, and points down the harmon the city is thirteen in the harmon that the city is the continually trying to "play truant" on the "Invalids," but as yet with poor mate burst at the first discharge. The steeple of St. Michael's Church has been struck twice, but not much injured.

Quietly fastening his horse, he crept to the front door, burst it open, and, pistol in hand, ry company through the back window, kicked over the whist table, smashing the goblets and a bottle of "Widow Cliquot" that had probably paid recent duty at Baton Ronge, disarmed the Colonel and took both him and his servant prisoners, mounted them on their own horses and brought them off amid the tears and lamentations of the "affianced" and her friends. Through by-roads the unlucky Colotion to General Butler. The prisoner nearly

How a Young Man came to get Vaccin-ATED.—A young man in Cincinna'i was put to a great fright recently. Having missed an acquaintance for some time he made inquiries for him, and learned that he was confined to his room through illness. The young man sought his friend's reom at once to pay him a visit. He knocked at the door, and the familiar voice of his friend bade him "walk in."

Young man walked in and saw the invalid sitting up in hed bathing his face, which presought his friend's room at once to pay him a sitting up in bed bathing his face, which presented a frightful appearance, being covered with eruptions so that he was scarcely recogparticularly. When he reached the street he tucky until he reached the nearest doctor's office and ad a quantity of vaccine matter inserted into his sinister arm. He has since been studying medical works and various treatises on smallpox, making himself familiar with the premonitory symptoms of that interesting cheerful disease, which he is in daily fear of detecting in his own system. The moral of the above is that you should ascertain what thinks that as long as legislation does not dis-criminate unjustly against the manufacturers— which it will not do until the fax is so burdensome as sensibly to lessen the consumptionno class can rightly complain of an enormous tax on whiskey. If we can raise a vast revenue from such a source, very few will be disposed to complain. The estimates of the Bureau of Internal Revenue of the annual manufacture of whiskey in the country is one hundred millions of gallons. It will probably ex-ceed this amount. A tax of seven y-five cents or a dollar per gallon would yield a revenue of seventy-five or a hundred millions of dol-lars. As the ordinary expenses of the governnever exceeded seventy millions, such a tax should go far towards defraying our entire current expenses upon the return of peace.

Military Occupation.—The San Francisco papers stated that the government has directed he military occupation of the large island of Santa Catalina, which fronts the Bay of San The island has of late become important from the fact that numerous rich min's have been iscovered thereon. It possesses a fine harbor, which will no doubt be made of avail as a raval as well as a military depot. It has een rumored for sometime past that this island was to be made the rendezvous of Con.

Saginaw Valley Salt,—The following notice of the developments in the Saginaw Valley is from the Albany Evening Journal: "The changes in currency and high tariff on salt has given a fresh impetus to the manufacture in the West. In Saginaw Valley, Michigan, where in 1860 no salt was made, they now manufacture 1,500,000 barrels per annum. The fabulous profits already made are creating quite an excitement among capitalists. Lands that two years ago sold for ten dollars an acre are now selling from $300 to $500 per acre, and the vast quantity of wood used in the manufacture of salt and lumber has also more than tripled the value of timber land."

In moralizing upon the Malden murder the New York Commercial says: "Hundreds of young men in this city are living in a style and at an expense which cannot be sustained by their earnings or by any honest means, and they can have no hope of meeting their obligations honestly. They must rob or cheat somebody to keep up the show for any length of time. It is only by wrong-doing to their employers, or creditors, or the public, that they can spert their fast horses, their rich jewelry, their expensive feastings and their costly apparel. FUTURE EXISTENCE .- It is hard to think when the ties of kindred and friendship are linked in the heart—when intellect has achieved its lofty triumphs and has woven its power into song, and left it in sculptured beauty—when the noble, the good, the loved, the beautiful, have passed to the grave—it is hard to think that we shall never behold them again; and we cling to the hopes which spring up amid those dark thoughts and tell spring up amid those dark thoughts and tell us these things are so. We look for analogies in nature to confirm these hopes. We behold the mean, grovelling worm of to-day transformed, on the morrow, to a thing of glory that flutters in the beauty of a new and bright-winged existence, and we say, "thus shall man die and live again." We behold the scarcers of the seasons of the scale of the seasons of the seaso bright-winged existence, and we say, "thus shall man die and live again." We behold the seasons of the sere leaf andfalling fruit—the snow-wreathed hill and the ice-bound stream—and when they pass, and when the glad earth rejoices again, and the streams break their fetters, and the trees put forth their loveliness, and the flowers look up and smile at us, we exclaim, "Thus shall man, who fades away like the summer flower, or the autumn leaf, break from the bonds of death and exult in a new being, in a new clime, where the sun never sets, and where

THE IDAHO GOLD MINES .- Mr. Chase, who left Iowa some two years since, on a tour to the land of gold, has just returned. From Mr. E. Clarkson, Mail Agent on the Bureau Valley Railroad, who conversed with him, ther a few facts that may be interesting and valuable to our readers.

The best route to Idaho, Mr. Chase thinks, is by way of Salt Lake City, then cross the country on mules. PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1863.

Mizszs. Jones & Evans: Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is wonched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appointed, and who were jully confizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Capt. B. B. Ayros. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an ettack of dysentery. I was they
